

DIPALI RABADIYA

Dipali Rabadiya paints “alla prima,” which means painting “all at once” or “wet-on-wet,” creating works depicting ordinary things in one sitting. Her paintings incorporate bold colors and spontaneous brush marks. She believes that painting small and often improves artistic skill and encourages an individual to be more creative in their field. Teaching is an integral part of her creative work. Carol Marine and Kevin MacPherson are the biggest influences on her art career as well as her work.

“Painting and color mixing makes me feel like solving a puzzle of lights and shadows. It is more like spiritual experience and evokes my senses” - Dipali Rabadiya

Please visit Dipali’s YouTube Channel to learn more about her teaching style and artwork.

<https://www.youtube.com/channel/UckZgx1T4L3TUUYyGsrYgimQ>

Learn more about Dipali as she discusses her work.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=2ZN5qHC-hLs&t=1616s>