Vian Borchert

Vian Borchert is an acclaimed artist known for her expressionist style, characterized by a poetic take. Vian is a graduate and “Notable Alumni” of the Corcoran College of Art and Design at George Washington University in Washington, DC. Borchert has exhibited for many years in over 100 exhibitions in both group and solo exhibits worldwide. Borchert serves as the Art Lead for the Oxford Public Philosophy Journal, based at Oxford University, UK. Her work has been showcased internationally in museums and key galleries in major cities, including the Louvre's Carrousel du Louvre in Paris, Medinaceli DeArte Museo Contemporáneo in Spain, The SAM Museum in Pennsylvania, Bank Art Fair in Seoul, South Korea, Art3f International Contemporary Art Fair in Monaco at the prestigious Chapiteau de Fontvieille, AVA Art Festival in Osaka, Japan at Enokojima Art Centre, the World Bank in NYC, the Venice Biennale, Art Basel Miami Beach, the Corcoran Museum of Art, the historic Arts Club of Washington DC, Watergate gallery in DC, Strathmore mansion, 1stDibs Design Center in NYC, along with embassies and numerous private collections. Borchert’s artwork has been widely published in the press, appearing in over 100 publications including esteemed World Art News, Museum Week Magazine, and The Washington Post. She was recently named by MSN as one of the “Top 10 Most Creative Artists” and listed by “Art Market Experts” among the most investable artists of 2025/2026. Borchert is also an art educator for two decades, teaching fine art classes in painting and drawing to adults in the Washington DC area in venues such as the historic Arts Club of Washington and the Yellow Barn Studio in Glen Echo Park. Renowned for her expressionist style and what she defines as “visual poetry,” Borchert transforms the essence of nature into transcendental visual metaphors for personal journeys, the human condition, and our connection to a larger world.

Borchert has juried and curated numerous art exhibitions within the DMV area and beyond. As of late, she was the 2026 juror for the annual DMV high school students exhibition at "Gallery B" in Bethesda.

Borchert is recognized for her philosophies on art along with pioneering intellectual thought and creativity in the art world, while continuing to influence global art dialogue. Besides exhibiting her artwork in DC area galleries, her artwork is available in world leading marketplaces such as "Artsy" and "1stdibs".
